Stop and Report a #HitchHikerBug

Nymph found in late spring / summer.

1. Take a picture:

With the GPS function turned on your cellphone or camera with GPS, take a photograph of any life stage (including egg masses). Upload your photo to Facebook or Instagram, using the hashtag

#HitchHikerBug

If you don't have GPS capabilities and/or access to social media, submit the photo via email to: HitchHikerBug@delaware.gov Include your name, contact information, and the address or georeference of where the photo was taken.

2. Capture or destroy:

Positively identified spotted lanternfly should be destroyed, whenever possible. These efforts help your property and your community. Collect suspected specimens of any life stage found outside the quarantine area. Place in a vial or plastic zip-lock bag with the name and contact information of the collector. Turn in to the Delaware Department of Agriculture Spotted Lanternfly Program for verification.

Nymph found in summer prior to adulthood.

Adult - late summer / fall.

Adult - late summer / fall.

Fresh Spotted Lanternfly egg mass on tree bark (outlined in white). Present in fall and winter, blends in with surroundings.

3. Report a site:

If you can't take a specimen or photograph, call (302) 698-4632 or send an email to: HitchHikerBug@delaware.gov. In the message, provide the sighting location and your contact information.
